ADDING TO THEIR CRIMES.

The California Desperadoes Seriously Wound Another of Their Pursuers.

A Special Officer Riddled With Shot and Lying at the Point of Death.

The Robbers Hotly Pursued—Little Chance of Their Being Taken Alive.

VISALIA, Cal., Aug. 6.—About 20 minutes past 1 o'clock this morning, Oscar Beaver was badly wounded by the fugitive train robbers, at the home of Chris Evans, in the northern part of Visalia. Beaver was shot with large-sized bird shot, and it is said that each of the bandits emptied a double-barrelled shot gun at him. He has something over 50 wounds in his face, neck and body. At about 1 o'clock this morning a party composed of Oscar Beaver, D. G. Overall, W. H. Fox, Constable Charles Hall, of Lucerne, and Detective Thatcher, went out to the Evans place to lie in wait to catch the fugitive robbers if they should return. Sheriff Cunningham joined the party soon after the shooting occurred. The men went cautiously to the place and posted themselves at different points around the premises. Soon after reaching the place, one of the party said in a low whisper, "there they go carrying the money in sacks." The officers quickly arranged themselves at different stations, Beaver going off to one side by himself. The men entered the barn and soon after were seen backing the horses attached to Sheriff Kay's buggy out of the barn. This is the rig they took from George Witty and Detective Smith yesterday at the time Witty was shot. As soon as they appeared with the horses and buggy, Beaver, who was near them, called to them to halt before they got into the rig. Beaver fired two shots at them with a shot gun, badly crippling one of the horses and also wounding the other animal. This made it impossible for the bandits to leave in the buggy. Beaver then took his revolver and opened fire on them. They must have taken refuge behind the horse that was not down, as three or four pistol balls entered the left hip and leg of the animal. Beaver fired in rapid succession with his revolver. The robbers returned the fire with their shot guns, riddling one side of Beaver's body from the face to his waist. One of the shots went through his cheek, but the most dangerous wounds seemed to be in his chest. As soon as Beaver fell, the bandits made off with all haste. The other members of the posse, who were not in full view of the bandits, thought they had taken refuge in the barn. After the shooting the wounded man must have lain on the ground ten minutes or more before any one came to his assistance.

Oscar Beaver, the wounded man, lives in Lemoore. He is about 35 years old and has a wife and child. He came to Visalia yesterday to assist in the capture of the robbers. Beaver is said to be a very brave, daring man, and is cool under all circumstances. A few years ago he killed a man in the western part of the country in an affray over a ditch despute. For this he was acquitted.

Reports came to Visalia this morning that the robbers were seen a few miles north of Visalia after sun rise this morning. It is now known that after the shooting yesterday the robbers did not go far but turned into the brush and let their pursuers go past. When night came they drove back to Chris Evans' house to refresh themselves and their horses, and get the bags of money. A large number of men are on the track of the fugitives this morning. The officers will endeavor to surround the bandits and then hunt them out of the brush. It is the opinion of nearly everyone that the two desperadoes will be found, and it is not thought they will surrender; and the officers will take no chances with them.

Beaver presents a terrible sight. From his forehead to his feet he is riddled with shot. He was standing sideways, shooting at the brigands, when he received the wounds, and nearly all the shot struck him on one side of the body. At 11 o'clock to-day he is not expected to live long, and his eyes have a set and deathly look. He received 74 shot wounds. He was standing only 20 yards from the robbers when he was exchanging shots with them. He was exposed to full view, while the robbers were probably protected by the horses, and possibly by the buggy and the barn.

The Homestead Troubles.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 6.—Fred Primer, Pinkerton detective, for whom a warrant was issued, was given a hearing this morning before Ald. King, who committed Primer to jail on the charge of murder. Carnegie's attorneys will at once make an effort to secure his release on bail.

James Esler, John T. Bennett, John McClain, Emslie Coates and John Hassa, five of the 11 Duquesne rioters brought to jail last evening, were released on bail of $2000 each by Alderman Reilly to-day. Bail has not been furnished for the other men yet in jail. No more arrests were made at Duquesne to-day.

HOMESTEAD, July 6.—The day has been uneventful. Cash contributions from all parts of the United States and Canada continue to come in, and to-day committees were appointed for the coal and coke regions to solicit aid for the locked out men.

At the office of the Carnegie Steel Company, Treasurer Curry said: "Over 35 tons of first class steel plate were turned out yesterday in exactly the same time it would have taken our former employees to do the work. We are working on 12 inch beams this morning, and with the exception of the Bessemer or converting mill, the 28-inch and new beam mills, our entire plant is in operation. There are now five rolling mills in operation. Both open hearth furnaces are on, with one furnace in one and four in the other, while six additional furnaces will be charged Monday night. The work done in all the departments has thus far been wonderfully satisfactory, and there is no longer any doubt about our ability to operate the entire plant successfully with our new men."

This morning J. W. Potter received a telegram from Superintendent Morrison, of the Duquesne mills, stating that all the men employed in the mechanical department had returned to work, and that by Monday morning nearly all will be at work. He does not expect any trouble.

LOST IN THE WOODS.

The Fate of a Comox Pioneer—Prisoners Get Bail.

NANAIMO, Aug. 6.—Mr. H. A. Simpson made application for the release of Sanfred and Tate, the two 'longshoremen who were recently sentenced to one month's imprisonment for complicity in the kidnapping of the crew of the bark Richard III. The magistrate offered no objection and Messrs. Raper and Frazer provided bail of $150 each. The appeal will be brought before Judge Harrison in about two weeks.

The Nanaimo City Council is calling for tenders for debentures for the purchase of $20,000 debentures issued under the late by-law cited as the Fire Hall, Hydrant and Erection of Public School By-Law, 1892. Plans for the erection of a two story brick building for a fire hall are also being called for, the successful architect to have the superintendence of the building.

Mrs. Fitzgerald, a pioneer resident of Comox, has apparently met her death by starvation. It appears the old lady left her home last Thursday week for the purpose of visiting a friend, and took a can with her to pick a few berries by the way. Next day it was learned she had not reached her destination, and on Saturday a Chinaman brought word in she had not been seen that morning. As nothing was heard of her on Sunday about 150 of the settlers decided to go in search of her. A thorough search was made but all attempts to discover a trail proved ineffectual. The missing woman is a widow and about 65 years old. She lived with her son. When she left home she was in good health save a blindness in one eye. It is feared she has wandered into the bush while berry picking and lost her way and probably her fate will never be known.

Three youths named Jim Baker, Jack Humphries and Stonehouse stole a bottle of whiskey on Thursday evening and hid it until next day, when they had a carousal. The boys became inebriated, and as one of them must have drunk the larger portion he was in a critical condition for some time. Dr. Praeger and his assistant were called in and succeeded in bringing the boy round. They were taken before the magistrates yesterday and treated as ordinary drunks and fined $5.25 each.

The buildings for the Nanaimo Soap Works have been completed and operations have already been commenced. As a large amount of this article is used in the city, no doubt those works will receive orders for the entire supply. The managers are confident they will be largely patronized and that the new industry will prove a paying concern.

An Italian School Question.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 6.—Just after the New Orleans riot, the better element of Italians decided that it was desirable to Americanize their fellow countrymen in this city, and to that end a school was established, the school board donating the use of a room. The children were taught Italian and English, and the grown up people English. It was a brilliant success until the close of the year, when the question of religion came up, and on that rock the school is about to be wrecked. The Camilla Cavour Society and the Italian consul want all questions of religion tabooed. The opposition insists that the school shall be made a distinctly Roman Catholic institution. The first are so bitter that some Mafia exhibitions are not impossible.

A Lively Wedding.

JACKSON, Tenn., Aug. 6.—James Lasenby, of Spring Creek, was shot from ambush and mortally wounded on Thursday night. His daughter Maria eloped last Friday with Thos. Williams and was married at a friend's house. A few minutes after they were wedded, the bride's father and brother, armed with Winchesters, entered the house, took the license from the magistrate, tore it up, and by force carried the girl home with them. The bridegroom armed himself and proposed to follow and rescue his bride but friends interfered.

The Telegraphers Threaten to Strike.

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 6.—The order of railway telegraphers has given the Union Pacific Railway until 6 o'clock to-night to grant an increase of pay or stand a strike. President Clark and Assistant General Manager Dickinson refuse the increase, and as a last resort have submitted the question to the directors. The telegraphers say the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad this morning granted an increase to the scale that they ask of the Union Pacific.

TRAGEDY IN A BALLROOM.

A Russian Officer Shot While Dancing by His Partner's Jealous Lover.

General Crespo Enters Caracas and Brings Venezuelan Affairs to a Crisis.

A Quebec Blacksmith Discovers the Art of Making Copper as Hard as Steel.

MOSCOW, Aug. 5.—At a grand ball arranged by the officers of the corps of the Czar's body hussars last night, at the Casino, First Lieutenant Ivan Rattovich suddenly stepped into the middle of the ballroom, drew a pistol from his dolman, took deliberate aim and shot Prince Nicholas Susslovitch, a brother officer. Prince Nicholas was waltzing with the lieutenant's fiancee. The Prince, who received the bullet in the throat, fell dead instantly, dragging his partner with him to the ground. The assassin, amid wild excitement, stepped over the body of his comrade, raised the head of his affianced by the hair, and then blew his own brains out. All this happened in less than thirty seconds, so quickly were the shots fired that interference was impossible. The cries of the terrified woman first gave the alarm to those in other parts of the hall. Medical assistance was at once procured, but was of no avail in the case of Prince Susselovitch and Ivan Rattovitch. The young lady was with difficulty dragged from the death grip of her murdered partner. She is lying at the point of death. The murder has created great excitement in Russia's highest circles, where all parties concerned were well known. The Czar ordered a special report to be forwarded to him by telegram. The murdered prince had been warned beforehand by Rattovitch not to attempt dancing with the lieutenant's intended. It was a clear case of jealousy, though there was no apparent ground for any suspicions on the part of the murderer.

VALUABLE INVENTION.

A Village Blacksmith Makes a Discovery of Great Importance.

QUEBEC, Aug. 6.—About a year ago, it was announced that the secret of the lost art of hardening copper and the manufacture of edged tools out of it, equal, if not superior to the best steel, had been discovered by a poor blacksmith at Levis, named Allard. After the first publicity given to the discovery nothing more was heard about it. It now appears that Allard has been at Ottawa and in the United States, and that he has received large offers to sell his secret. It is stated that at Ottawa he exhibited specimens of copper tools to Sir John Abbott and Major-General Herbert, who were both astonished at their edge and hardness. Engineers to whose inspection the tools were submitted, were impressed with the possibility of the discovery being utilizable for the armor of war vessels. General Herbert suggested to Allard to harden a sheet of copper of 1¼ inch in thickness and have its power of resistance tested at the rifle ranges at St. Joseph de Levis, which seems to have been lately done. When the first bullet was fired against the sheet at forty yards distance, the bullet was shivered into a thousand fragments and the second was completely flattened but remained imbedded in the copper, which it slightly dinged, but did not crack in any way. This result is regarded as very successful.

Caracas Captured.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6. — The Herald says:—"General Crespo has entered Caracas by force of arms," was the startling dispatch from the chief of staff of the supreme commander of Venezuelan insurgents yesterday to the Venezuelan agent in New York. Later came the information that the conquering Crespo had grown tired of the dilly dallying methods of the peace commissioners, and of the unfulfillment of promises of the citizens' committee, who pretended that they desired to effect a quiet surrender and arrange for the entrance of the victorious insurgent forces into the city without any further bloodshed. He had wearied of these delaying schemes, and taking the bull by the horns, had adopted heroic measures which had precipitated a sanguinary battle at the city's gates, and which had terminated in the utter defeat of the Government troops, and resulted in the triumphal entrance of the entire revolutionary army of 25,000 men, with Crespo, Guerra, Quinatan, Vigas and others at its head. The intelligence which came to the Junta yesterday also announced the utter defeat and route of Lucien Mendoza, the last general of the Government at La Victoria, and the capture of General Bataila and his entire command.

The Gentleman's Game.

PARIS, Aug. 6.—In a balk line game, 300 points, last evening, between Ives and Cure, Ives conceding the Frenchman 120 points, the latter won. Ives gave a brilliant display of his skill in handling the cue by an almost unprecedented break of 436 points.

He is pressing for a settlement of the trouble over the canal question, so as to prevent the States striking at the railways. The matter was considered at the council meeting.

A delegation is here from Regina, asking the Government to remonstrate with the Canadian Pacific for stating that they will take away the terminus of the Soo extension of the C.P.R from Regina and place it 30 miles further west. Prince of Monaco as a Scientist.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The announcement that the Prince of Monaco would address the British Association for the Advancement of Science at Edinburgh attracted a crowd to the meeting. The Prince spoke excellent English, and his manner was agreeable and unaffected. He looks like a student, and not at all as the virtual proprietor of the most extensive gambling saloon in the world might be expected to appear. In his paper, which was devoted to the effect of tides and ocean currents, he urged that observations be collected at all the Atlantic stations daily, and telegraphed to some suitable European port, for the purpose of having predictions of storms made up and distributed. The system would be much more valuable, he added, when the cables are more extensively carried out. He offered to take charge of the work of distributing the bulletins himself. The president of the association thanked the Prince for his suggestions, and agreed that the system would almost certainly result in timely warning being given to mariners of Atlantic storms. President Buchan, of the Scottish Geographical Society, said he believed the Azores would be a highly suitable place on which to establish a central signal station, as the experiments already carried out by means of sealed bottles had shown that the Azores formed a sort of rendezvous for ocean currents. An interesting paper was read before the association on the subject of spiders, the author being Mr. McCook, an American, who has made a special study of these insects.

Cable Notes.

Eight Hours a Day.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The Lancashire textile workers who have hitherto opposed the eight-hour movement, have decided to come into line with other working people in this respect. They have come to the conclusion that shorter hours would reduce the production, and that this is the best way to combat the threatened action of the masters in the direction of reduced wages. The question will have to be submitted to each branch of the Textile Workers' Union, and also to the Trades Congress which meets in Glasgow early in September. It will doubtless then be adopted, thus bringing all the organized workers of Great Britain, except the Durham miners, in harmony as to the question of hours.

Mr. Blake's Speech.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The Liberal newspapers regard the speech of Hon. Edward Blake, before the Eighty Club, as highly important, and their comments imply that they consider Mr. Blake a strong accession to the party.

He Stole From the Rothschilds.

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—Rudolph Jaeger, the defaulting cashier of the banking house of the Rothschilds at Frankfort, was to-day sentenced to ten years' imprisonment for embezzlement from that house. Others who were guilty of complicity with Jaeger were sentenced to periods varying from six years to six weeks. Jaeger's stealings amounted to 1,700,000 marks, and no less than fourteen persons aided him in using the money and helped him to escape. The police recovered 1,200,000 marks, and the Rothschilds expended 30,000 marks in Jaeger's apprehension.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

VERNON.

Ripe tomatoes can be seen in Mr. Whelan's orchard. He has a very heavy grape crop this year.

The crop of oats on "Beaver Jack's" claim near the Shuswap averages seven feet high.

The harvest is on in the Okanagan country and other business is quiet.

Messrs. H. D. Andrews and J. R. Fleming, of the Silver Crown Mining Company, passed through Vernon on Saturday en route to Seattle. They had with them a large quantity of splendid specimens of quartz carrying free gold, also very rich silver ore, both taken from the same claim.

On Monday morning Miss Rosie Dewdney performed the ceremony of laying the corner stone of the new court-house, in the presence of a few spectators. An envelope was placed underneath, containing the date, the names of the Commissioner of Lands and Works, the contractor, etc. The brick work of the building is now well under way.

Judgments have been given against the Rattler Mining Company of Fairview, in actions for the recovery of $110 duty on machinery, and for $3000, and to enforce mechanics' lien. The property of the company will be sold by auction to satisfy the judgments.

Mr. F. H. Latimer, C.E., and party are camped near Finlaison's. They have completed the survey of all the claims on the south side of the Shuswap and will now cross over towards the Mabel lake country. After completing the survey of that section they will finish up in the eastern part of the Shuswap basin.

There promisss to be great fun over the elections for reeve and councillors of the Spallumcheen municipality. A great many state their intention of running just to see how many votes they will poll, and great excitement can be looked forward to on the day of voting, 17th September. Lansdowne will be a busy place again, if only for a few hours.

Soon after noon on Monday a fire started on the east side of the "back road," about half a mile from town, and had obtained much headway when it was discovered and fought by Mrs. Raymur and her two children. As it quickly spread through the dry bunch grass beyond their control and was approaching Mr. Price Ellison's wheat fields, word was sent to town for help, and quickly responded to, but it required a couple of hours hard work before the fire was smothered. About 10 acres of bunch grass and half-a-mile of fence were destroyed, but it was happily prevented from spreading into the grain, else the whole country would have been devastated. It is not known how the fire originated.

Messrs. Stuart & Harber have sold out the Vernon News to Messrs. A. Megaw, of Ontario, and Henderson, of Vancouver. The new proprietors are journalists of experience and will endeavor to keep the News up to the good standard it has maintained since its birth 15 months ago.

Russians and Afghans Fight.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—A dispatch to the Times from Simla says: It is reported that a collision has occurred between the Russians and Afghans at Somotash Yeshilkool. Five Russians were killed and sixteen captured. The Afghans, it is said, refused to release the prisoners, declaring that in future they would neither give nor take quarter. The party probably consisted of Kirghez, officered by Russians.

SIMLA, Aug. 5.—It is stated that the four or five Russians captured in the collisions with the Afghan troops on the frontier have been sent in chains to Cabul, the capital of Afghanistan.

Weather Fore-cast.—A Wet, Cool Summer Predicted.

The autumn of 1891 having been unusually dry, and followed by a mild winter with an extremely light snowfall, and again by a very dry spring, it will naturally follow according to the law of compensation that we shall have a wet, cool summer.

This although an unpleasant prospect is not as bad as it might be. Chemical science has been busy since last summer and has provided against just such an unpleasant event. We refer to the recently discovered compound for water-proofing known as Rigby, by which any woolen fabric may be rendered waterproof and at the same time remain perfectly porous. A Rigby proofed overcoat does not confine the perspiration like a rubber coat, consequently its wearers do not experience that clammy feeling which is always the attendant discomfort of a rubber or Mackintosh coat. It keeps out the rain, is light, dry and comfortable.

The reduction sale of carpets, rugs, chenille curtains and art squares still goes on at Weiler Bros. Special attention is called to some large seamless velvet squares at exceptionally good value. If you intend ge. ing a new carpet in the near future it will pay you to come and order in now.

TARIFF BEAUTIES.

The Hamilton Spectator seems to think it can justify to British Columbians the newly imposed duty of five cents a dozen on eggs by talking in this fashion:—

"The Victoria, B.C., TIMES is about to crush the Dominion government because of the new egg duty, which it calls an "overwhelming burden" upon British Columbians. There is no country on earth better adapted to the production of eggs than British Columbia, and it will be but a short time, thanks to the duty, before the TIMES will be overwhelmed with home-produced eggs."

Obviously, if there is no country on earth better adapted to the production of eggs than British Columbia, it should need no duty to encourage the production of eggs here. And as a matter of fact no such adventitious encouragement is needed. When eggs bring 50 cents a dozen without any duty, one might suppose that the profits would furnish all the encouragement that could reasonably be looked for. But the adaptibility of the province to egg-production does not remove the fact that it does not now, and will not for some time, produce eggs enough to supply its population. There must be large quantities imported either from eastern Canada or from that much nearer source the Pacific States, and British Columbians will have to pay the five cents a dozen either in the shape of duty on the foreign eggs or of transportation charges on the eastern eggs, which are not as good as the former. The chief point of our objection to the egg duty is that the great share of the burden will fall on this province, which imports one-third of all the eggs that come into Canada from abroad. If the Spectator were disposed to treat the subject in a spirit of fairness it would admit that it is neither fair nor judicious to impose a tax one-third of which must fall on less than one-fiftieth of the people of the whole country. It is a stretching of even the nonsensical doctrine of the ultra-protectionists. The duty is wholly indefensible from any standpoint; it is in fact an outcome of the worst kind of economic insanity, which is only too prevalent at Ottawa.

While dealing with this subject it seems not amiss to reproduce a paragraph from the Week in reference to the tariff changes of last session generally. The state of affairs which it discloses is well worth considering:

A good deal of dissatisfaction was caused by the very ususual course taken by Mr. Foster, Minister of Finance, in proposing certain changes in the tariff within three or four days of the close of the session, when the absence of a large number of the members from both sides of the House prevented full consideration and discussion. The Government gave no satisfactory reason for the innovation. That omission has now been supplied by the Canadian Manufacturer, in a remarkable article. Its explanation amounts to this. The changes made were but two or three out of a large number of similar modifications of the tariff which the manufacturers, whose right to direct the Government in such matters is set forth in terms which must make the Ministers wince, had urged upon their attention during the session. For prudential reasons the Government did not see its way clear to complying with the bulk of these requests, and did not wish to open up discussion with regard to them, lest the manufacturers in question and their friends in the House should prove troublesome. Hence, they adopted the not very valiant course of delaying the announcement of intended changes until the last hours of the session. From the protectionist point of view the Manufacturer makes out a very good case in favor of most of the changes denied as well as those granted by the Government. They were all, or nearly all, of the nature of reduction or removal of duties upon raw material not produced in the country and entering into the manufacture of products of consumption or export. These duties, it is claimed, seriously handicap the producers of such products and lessen their ability to compete in foreign markets. Why the Government should have declined to comply with the requests of their masters in the matter it is not easy to conceive, taking the cases as represented by the organ in the number now before us.

Perhaps the fact that the Government in devising tariff changes sees fit to consult no interest but that of the manufacturers' ring has never before been so frankly stated as it is now by the organ of that ring. It is well for the people to know just who their rulers are, and that they have no rights except what the Red Parlor is disposed to concede them. The inhabitants of British Columbia in particular will be charmed with the idea that the ring is at liberty to make life as burdensome to them as it chooses for the benefit of its own pocket. The tariff now bears with special force on this province, but who knows what new twist of the screw may be given at any time by the men who dominate the Government? And not one of our so-called representatives would raise even his little finger to protest.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Dr. Bourinot, clerk of the House of Commons at Ottawa, thinks there is no room for the intervention of the Dominion Parliament in Manitoba school matters. The Privy Council judgment in effect declares that there is nothing to remedy, therefore no remedial legislation by Parliament is possible. It will be seen that this is the view of the situation taken by the TIMES in discussing the question recently. But Sir John Thompson's report on the bishops' petition took very different ground, and considerable interest attaches to the question whether he will still maintain the ground. Naturally enough, the French-Canadians of Quebec are bitterly disappointed over the result of the legal battle, and some of them go so far as to make it a reason for declaring in favor of annexation. The logic of this course is not apparent, for in the event of Canada being joined politically with the States the French-Canadians of Quebec would lose the ecclesiastical privileges they now enjoy, while those of Manitoba would certainly gain none.

Some months ago there was a grouse drive on the estate of the Duke of Rutland, and while it was in progress one of the Duke's gamekeepers stopped two workingmen who were travelling on the public highway so that the drive might not be interfered with. One of the men persisted in going on his way, when the gamekeeper knocked him down. The victim complained of this outrage to Lord Edward Manners, the Duke's son, who politely replied: "Go to the devil. If you are shot, your life be on your own head." The gamekeeper was then summoned before the local magistrates on a charge of assault, but these worthies were of that class so unmercifully scored by Labouchere, and so dismissed the case, holding that the "landed gentry's" sport must not be interfered with by any man exercising his right to travel along the "Queen's Highway." But the cause of the public as against the privileges of the landed gentry was not allowed to rest here; the victim of the outrage brought a suit for damages against the Duke of Rutland, and this suit has now been decided in his favor by Lord Chief Justice Coleridge, whose remark that "the days of high-handed interference with the rights of the people had passed" must have been gall and wormwood to Lord Edward Manners and his class. Many members of the English aristocracy are sensible people, and therefore know that the day has passed when a nobleman can consider himself as free to ignore popular rights, but there are others who need just such a lesson as has been administered by Lord Coleridge.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

It is wonderful how much we are indebted to our environments for our tastes, likes and dislikes. The fashions in one country are considered hideous disfigurements in another. The amusements of one state are looked down upon with distain in another. The food of one continent and the method of preparing it is unknown in another. Travellers in alien lands are often well nigh starved before they can become accustomed to the viands provided. Passing through Chinatown yesterday I could not help noticing that the various articles of food offered for sale were of a character altogether different from our own. Some square blocks of yellow concoction, some other indefinable and indescribable messes were offered by the chattering merchants of the Oriental portion of our city. They may have been delightful, possibly "nectar, fit for the gods," but early training and association made Quiz decline the kindly hospitality.

Will our park committee kindly walk around Beacon Hill, specially that portion near the bear pit? For at that delightful spot there has been buried an unfortunate quadruped, or rather has been partly buried. The head of the animal has been raised above ground as if in mute protest against his untimely end and irreverent burial. The flies of the neighborhood have summoned a convention to that spot, and a committee of the whole have ordered an inquest. A post-mortem examination is part of the proceedings; and the deliberations being rather protracted some discontented human beings have protested. There are grumblers everywhere, and those citizens who murmur at anything which will promote the happiness of the flies and the well-being of other insects must be depraved indeed. There is a worthy alderman who holds an interest in a drug store. In all his large and splendid assortment of lovely scent, I question if there are any so effective as a few vigorous whiffs from a dead horse. If it were possible to bottle the exhilerating odors, a large and most profitable business could be done. Meanwhile any one passing that way will be accommodated at a low price. QUIZ.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

Two Ladies Receive Injuries by Being Thrown From Their Carriage.

This afternoon when Mrs. and Miss Jones, mother and sister of Mr. Stephen Jones, jr., of the Dominion Hotel, were out driving their horse became unmanageable and ran away. In turning on to Gordon street the vehicle was overturned and the ladies thrown violently on the hard road. Miss Jones escaped with several bruises on her face and shoulder but Mrs. Jones was less fortunate. She had her right thigh bone broken in two places besides receiving other injuries, and was rendered insensible by the shock.

Both ladies were taken home and Drs. Ernest Hall and Metherall attended to their injuries. Mrs. Jones, though well up in years, possesses a strong constitution, and her injuries though serious are not considered dangerous.

AMONG THE SECRET SOCIETIES.

The Different Orders Resuming Work After a Fortnight's Rest.

The Grand Lodge A. O. U. W. of B. C. Levy Their First Assessment Last Week.

The different societies are again at work after a couple of weeks idleness. The I.O.O.F. resumed their meetings last week, the Knights of Pythias are doing likewise and the Workmen will follow suit next week. The principal work done by the latter body lately, was the organization of a new lodge at Comox, which is now in a flourishing condition. Grand Master Leiser, who is now on the mainland, expects to organize lodges at Port Haney and Langley before coming home.

The Grand Lodge A.O.U.W., of British Columbia, levied their first assessment a few days ago on account of the death of Thomas B. Lewis, of Nanaimo Lodge. It is expected that after the next Grand Lodge meeting to be held in March no one over 45 years of age will be accepted as members. This rule is left to the option of the Grand Lodges by the Supreme Lodge, and it is probable that it will be adopted by British Columbia.

The different lodges A.O.U.W. will resume their regular meetings next week.

The regular quarterly meeting of Seghers Council, Y.M.I., will be held this evening.

The semi-annual installation of officers of the Royal Templars of Temperance will be held at Temperance Hall, Pandora street, on Monday evening.

The four lodges, I.O.O.F., will hold their annual installation banquet at I. O.O.F. Hall, Douglas street, this evening.

W. E. Ottaway, who has been attending the Grand Lodge, C.O.O.F. (M.U.), at St. Catharines for the purpose of defending his conduct in certain lodge affairs, returned home last evening.

Sunset Lodge, K. of P., will meet as usual this evening.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Matters of Interest Going Forward in the Sporting World, Here and Elsewhere.

THE OAR.

GETTING INTO CONDITION.

The James Bay four-oared crews are not neglecting their opportunities for practice. Four of the crews go out in the afternoon and the others in the evening. They all row very well, although many of the men are not accustomed to the sliding seat and somewhat constrained position necessary in the boat. The usual trip is to the Gorge and return. One well-known stroke takes his men up there at a warm pace, orders the boat round and then calmly says to the panting three, "Well, we'll put on a little pace back to the boathouse, all ready, give way." And they have to "give way," too. That crew ought to be in that mysterious state of health so commonly alluded to in the sporting papers as the "pink of condition" when the race takes place. There is some talk of including in the regatta sports a water tournament in Peterborough canoes if there is time. This a great sport. Each canoe has two men; one does the paddling, the other stands up in the bow armed with a 12-foot pole, well padded at the other end, with which he tries to poke his opponent out of the bows of the canoe opposed to his. The two lines of combatants advance from opposite directions at the order of the judge and meet in the middle. The victors pass on, and in lacrosse parlance, "line up" again for the next engagement, the vanquished swim ashore with their canoes. This goes on until only two of the contestants remain, their deciding bout generally being the most interesting and exciting. The regatta committee are working hard to provide a first-class afternoon's sport.

Several collectors are to be appointed by the Provincial Government to collect exhibits for the World's Fair. Their appointments will be gazetted in next week's Gazette.

Meet on Monday.

A meeting of the general picnic committee of the Victoria Athletic club will be held on Monday evening to arrange for the annual picnic, which was necessarily postponed from July to August.

Musical.

The Conservatory of Music, 95 Douglas street, re-opens August 6th. Miss L. Adams, principal, having returned to the city. She will receive applications for lessons between 10 and 12 any morning.

At the Police Court.

A. C. Howe was summoned before Magistrate Macrae on a charge of refusing to pay A. C. Patterson $8 75 wages due. Judgment was given for the plaintiff. Samuel Hosely admitted having been drunk yesterday evening and was taxed $5.

Local Improvement System.

There is an important notice of motion on the bulletin board at the City Hall. It is signed by Alderman Hunter, who says that he intends at the next meeting of the council to ask leave to introduce a by-law to provide for the assessment of real property benefited by local improvements.

For the South.

The steamer City of Puebla sailed for San Francisco this morning with the following cabin passengers from Victoria: Mrs. C. T. Harris and son, Miss N. Patterson, Charlie Kee, C. Parry, W. Morley, J. Davidson and wife, Wm. Lucy, F. M. Black, Thos. White and daughter, J. H. Dreisbach and wife, A. Armitage, B. M. Rudy, A. S. Taylor and W. C. Haywood.

Wants to Get Away.

It is understood that a communication has been forwarded by Mr. McBean, sewerage contractor, to the city council, requesting that he be relieved of his contract with the city. Under agreement with the city, the sewers constructed by Mr. McBean have to be handed over on trial for a term of six months, in the meantime $20,000 of the contract price remaining in the city treasury as security against any defects which may be discovered in the work.

Lacrosse.

At a meeting last night the executive of the Victoria Lacrosse club decided that, owing to unavoidable circumstances, it would be impossible to grant the request of the Vancouver club for an exchange of dates of the next two matches between Vancouver and Victoria; or a postponement of the next match for a week. The next match between these clubs is scheduled to be played on the Caledonian grounds here on the 13th inst. The Vancouvers ask for a change so that the match will not clash with a regatta held at Vancouver on the same day.

The Best Kind of Bath.

Those who are busying themselves agitating for salt water baths built in the harbor, "somewhere," should take a walk to Dallas road beach between 6 and 7 any morning and see the fun that goes on there. Some people want the bath brought to them and somebody to rub them down afterwards. The gentlemen who take their morning plunge into the straits walk about a mile to enjoy it and think they are in good luck to have the sea so handy. They are reaping the benefit while the lie-abeds are missing all the fun.

Where His Wages Went.

This morning a laboring man who had been fuddling himself in half-a-dozen gin shops, and transmuting the children's bread into intoxicating liquor, reeled out of one of those resorts on Store street and fell upon the sidewalk in front of the door. Here he composed himself for a drunken slumber and lay like a log for over half-an-hour until a policeman assisted him to headquarters. An artist who passed while the sot was sleeping at the saloon door remarked, "How appropriate! A devoted worshipper at Bacchus' altar."

The Official Report.

The following is the latest report furnished by Dr. Davie, the provincial health officer:

PROVINCIAL HEALTH OFFICE,
Midnight, Aug. 5, 1892.

NANAIMO—No cases in city or district.

NEW WESTMINSTER—Three cases.

VANCOUVER DISTRICT—Moodyville, 1; Hastings, 2.

VANCOUVER CITY—Five cases in hospital at Deadman's Island; one case discharged.

VICTORIA CITY—No cases.

JUBILEE HOSPITAL QUARANTINE, two miles from business centre—Fifty-nine cases. No new cases; none discharged; no deaths.

Not Properly Handled.

Smallpox matters at Vancouver are not running as smoothly as they might be. There is a dearth of vaccination certificates, but no dearth of "kicks" over this fact. The nuisance of having to bare one arm and submit to an examination every time one boards a steamer makes the public, as a general rule, somewhat crusty, and the health authorities are the persons who catch it without running after it. The actions of the provincial health officer are severely criticised by everybody, and the numerous examples of gaucherie by him and his assistants are freely condemned. No attempt is made at Vancouver to isolate the cases. There are cases at Moodyville, Hastings and the Mission; all treated in a haphazard way. Competent persons say that if the quarantine at Vancouver is not more strictly enforced it will be a long time before the disease is got rid of there.

Flies Will be Scarce.

Sticky fly-paper at Bowes' prescription pharmacy, 27 Johnson street. Also a choice brand of bird seed. Telephone 425. Night bell.

The P. O. Home Site Committee.

The site committee of the P. O. Home will hold a meeting early next week to further consider the sites offered for the building to be erected with the money left to the home by the late John Taylor.

Postponed for a Time.

The notice of motion to dissolve an injunction restraining the British Columbia Mercantile Association from publishing accounts, and set for to-day, was not heard owing to the absence of the chief justice. The motion will come up again next week.

Re-opening of the Campaign.

The Salvation Army will re-commence all the usual indoor meetings. To-night at 8 p. m. the usual Saturday night "free-and-easy" will be held. Meetings all day Sunday, at 7 and 11 a. m., and 3 and 7 p. m. Staff Captain Banks in command all day Sunday.

Band Concert.

The open air concert given by the City Band at the Victoria Gardens this afternoon proved a drawing card up the Gorge. The fine day and the beautiful surroundings lent an extra charm to the excellent music, and there were hundreds to appreciate the treat provided.

A Strange Account.

The report which appears in the TIMES yesterday of the case of Cameron vs. Brown, an action to recover balance due on tickets, in fairness to the plaintiff should have mentioned that although judgment was given for the defendant it was held by the court that the balance claimed was still unpaid, but Mr. Brown was not responsible for the amount.

A Wheeling Tear.

There are tears other than drunks which come high, so a young man says, who while whirling down Yates street yesterday evening got the lower extremities of his trousers caught in the gearing of his machine. Before he could free himself about $5 worth of tearing had been done—valuing the the habiliments torn at $10. Fortunately there was a tailor shop close to where the accident occurred.

A Summer Afternoon.

The beautiful weather this afternoon induced an unusually large number of pleasure seekers to leave the dusty streets of the city and spend "a few hours by the ocean's brim," or up the Arm, or in the country. The riflemen betook themselves to the ranges, the anglers to the streams, and almost every outdoor game had a few ardent devotees busy with their favorite sport. The mercury succeeded in climbing up to 76 in the shade, but the pleasant south-westerly breeze tempered the heat very acceptably.

The Bonds are Ready.

Captain William Webster, of the Union Steamship Company, of Vancouver, arrived down from Vancouver last evening to make final arrangements for securing the bonds for the release of the steamer Coquitlam. The underwriters, represented by R. Ward & Co., limited, are putting up the bonds for the release of the hull and equipment of the steamer. The bonds are now ready and would have gone up on the Queen to-day, but she did not call here. They will, therefore, be sent up on the steamer Mexico, which goes up on the 10th inst. The bonds for the release of the skins will probably go up at the same time.

Sales on Stanley Avenue.

Mr. D. R. Young, of the old firm of Young & Bartlett, reports the following sales during the past week: Geo. W. Miles, house and lot, Stanley avenue, $3,500.

Geo. A. Cooper, house and lot, Stanley avenue, $3,700.

Robt. Hamilton, veterinary surgeon, house and lot, Stanley avenue, $4,200.

Max. Heap, house and lot, Stanley avenue, $3,500.

Mr. Ray, house and lot, Stanley avenue, $3,250.

A two inch main is being laid along Stanley avenue, and a petition is now being circulated asking for a sidewalk.

Hospital Purchase.

The Jubilee Hospital board are to meet on Monday evening next to consider the proposition made by the city council to take over the hospital property. It is understood that the proposition which they have received is that the city shall assume the debts of the institution, take it over and carry it on under the management of a board of hospital commissioners, who, having the backing of the whole city shall be able to popularize the hospital, raise it above the standing of a pauper, place it on a self-sustaining basis and relieve the community for all time from a position of continued and persistent begging in multifarious forms.

Prospects Are Fairly Good.

"What are the prospects for the fall trade?" enquired a TIMES reporter of a Government street merchant to-day.

"Ask me something easy," retorted the merchant.

"Well, do you think the late smallpox scare is going to have a lasting effect, at least for this year?"

"Lasting effect be blowed! Why, man, we're doing just as good a business now as we ever did in our lives."

"Then you think the fall trade will be correspondingly good?"

"I see no reason why it shouldn't; we have placed heavier orders than ever before with our Eastern and English wholesalers, and we're not afraid to face the issue. Of course, the July depression knocked our calculations slightly out of plumb for the year, but my honest belief is that the August, September and October trade will more than recoup us."

"Even without the summer tourists?"

"Oh, yes; they represent a good deal to us, to be sure, but they are not our bower anchor, you know; at least just yet. I think if Victoria got half the advertising some towns with a tenth of her advantages get, the tourist traffic would be a great big item."

The merchant then entered into a dissertation upon the causes of the universal dullness, and the newspaper man thought it was time to go when the air became cloudy with talk of consols, rentes, percentage, bonds, stocks, market quotations, bulls and bears, etc.

FREEZING THE SALMON.

One of the Skeena River Canneries Erects Cold Storage Warehouses.

It Will Save a Large Number of Salmon That Were Formerly Missed by Canners.

Mr. B. M. Rudy, of the Vulcan Iron Works of San Francisco, arrived from Vancouver last evening, having returned from the North several days ago. He has just completed a cold storage system at Cunningham's cannery on the Skeena river, which is proving to be a big boon to the cannery men, besides opening up a new phase of the fishing industry.

When Mr. Rudy left the Skeena 6000 salmon had already been frozen and were being prepared for shipment east. The fish immediately upon being taken from the water are put in a room where the temperature is 20 degrees below zero. They are left there for six or seven hours, when they are removed to another and larger room, 30 degrees below freezing, where they are kept for a couple of weeks. They are then placed in hermetically sealed cases and are ready for shipment. It is claimed that they will keep for years, and are just as good as fresh fish when opened. Other northern canneries are negotiating for the erection of similar systems and it is expected that before long Easterners will be enabled to eat fresh Skeena river salmon in their houses in the East.

Besides opening up this new industry the cold storage is also of great benefit to the canners in saving the fish after a big run. For instance, while Mr. Rudy was up north there was an immense run of salmon on the Skeena and the canners could not handle the fish. With cold storage they would have to stand on their docks and watch the fish running past their door. With it they are able to take all they fish they can, and put it in cold storage warehouses, where it will keep until they are able to us it.

BRIEF LOCALS.

One Day's Doings in City and Province Briefly Related.

The Salvation Army will resume their meetings this evening.

Try the Boston cream toast, at the Dairy Kitchen. *

Some of the city constables who have done duty regularly for a year or more are sighing for a holiday.

A painter named Andrew Foote fell from a scaffold yesterday and received a severe shaking up.

Fine fishing tackle at Fox's, 78 Government street.

The slight sprinkling of rain last evening did little towards laying the dust. It was just as choking as ever down town to-day.

Try the Dairy Kitchen; something new and very popular. *

The city band's moonlight boating party and dance at the Victoria gardens this evening promises to be a grand affair.

The beautiful warm weather continues and life in camp is pronounced a luxury. It was 76 deg. in the shade again to-day.

The Royal Templars of Temperance will hold their semi-annual installation service on Monday evening the 8th inst., at which the Knight Templars in uniform will officiate. A large attendance requested.

Prevention is better than cure. Pendray's Carbolic soap is a pleasant disinfectant. *

The attention of the streets committee is humbly drawn to the constant violation of the James Bay bridge rules, which forbid vehicles to cross faster than a walk. Some wagons containing stone and earth crossed this forenoon at a brisk trot, making the bridge tremble in an alarming manner.

Fresh ranch eggs, creamery butter, pure cream and pure milk, at the Dairy Kitchen. *

Naked boys, some of them rather more than boys, bathed in the Arm last evening, where their fantastic gambols could be seen by all passing up and down. They had a great fire built on the beach, and were executing a sort of cannibalistic dance around the same. This nuisance has been complained of before.

Due to Makeshift Gear.

In the course of a ramble about the city this morning a TIMES reporter met several people who were rejoicing over the failure of Captain Whitelaw in the attempt to raise the San Pedro. In the report of an interview with the captain which appeared in the TIMES yesterday, a statement made by that gentleman was inadventantly omitted, but will perhaps show the above-mentioned rejoicers that there is not so much to rejoice about after all. It was to the effect that had he had his own wrecking outfit here, instead of having to work with makeshift gear, the San Pedro would have been up last spring. Of course the existing state of affairs between the British and American governments prevented the proper gear being employed. But were it allowed in, it would be a matter of less than a week to take the ship out of her present position.

Five Cases Discharged.

The report from the Jubilee Hospital quarantine this afternoon was, "No deaths, no fresh cases, and five cases discharged cured." The Ross Bay suspect house has no new developments, and the patients get their breakfast regularly.

THE SMALLPOX EXPENSES.

Heavy Liabilities for the City to Meet—Muddled Accounts.

It is estimated that the expenses at the Jubilee Hospital, which the city will be called upon to pay, for two-thirds of the month of July, that is to say from the 10th to the 31st ultimo, will closely approximate $14,000. A large number of bill were received at the City Hall yesterday, on which this estimate is based.

A list of the persons employed at the Ross Bay suspect station has been furnished by Dr. Edward Hasell, who signs himself the "Resident Medical Superintendent," which shows that 46 guards, waiters, etc., are employed to guard and wait on some 90 persons, all told, men, women and babies.

Everything in connection with supplies, the employment of men, etc., for health purposes is in a hopeless muddle. Not a living soul seems to have the faintest conception of what debts have been incurred. Many people are of opinion that the city must never again be caught in the position it is in this time, but that it must have a hospital of its own to treat the sick.

KASLO CITY

KOOTENAY LAKE.

SINCE the opening of navigation many hundreds of people have poured into Kaslo City. The discoveries of last fall have proved as rich as expected, and many new ones, fully as important, have been located this spring. The Kaslo-Kootenay Land Company have built roads and trails into the important mines, and surveys have been completed for the railway. The contract for clearing the right-of-way for the latter will be let in a few days. Many substantial buildings have been erected so far this year, and a large number will be begun immediately, including a handsome hotel.

A large number of business and residential lots have been sold, and many have changed hands at a good profit. In a short time the Company will advance the price of all lots.

BANK OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.

General Meeting in London—A Dividend of 6 Per Cent Declared.

An ordinary general meeting of this company was held on Wednesday, July 13th, at the Canon street hotel, London, Eng., Sir Robert Gillespie, chairman of the board of directors, presiding. There was a small attendance of shareholders. The other members of the board present were: Mr. Eden Colvile, deputy chairman, Mr. T. G. Gillespie, Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. James Anderson.

Mr. Hugh Hughes, general manager, having read the notice convening the meeting.

The chairman said: Gentlemen, I have again the pleasure of meeting you for the especial purpose of declaring a dividend for the half year ended the 30th of June last. I may remind you that at these general meetings we are not able to submit to you any statement of accounts, as these have not reached us and will not for some little time yet come to hand; but so soon as they do, and have been audited, they will as usual be sent to the shareholders. The directors in the meantime have received by telegram the actual result of the half year's business, and they have the pleasure to recommend the payment of a divident for the half year at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, and a bonus of 1 per cent. free of income tax. (Hear, hear.) The figures resulting from the half year's business again compare favorably with the two last half years at similar periods, and, I may add, exceed any similar June period. (Hear, hear.) I will give you the figures as we received them by telegram. There may be a little difference in the settlement of the accounts when they come to hand, but these figures are substantially correct, and they are the figures we may go upon; they are for this last half year £49,193 as against £47,717 in 1891 and £36,754 in 1890 (hear, hear)—of course to the 30th of June. And that return is, I may tell you, for our lean half-year, as less business is done in the first half year than in the latter half. You will no doubt be desircus of hearing what we propose doing with the surplus after paying the dividend and bonus. Well, gentlemen, I will take you into our confidence. I have simply to say that the policy of the directors is still to strengthen the reserves. (Hear, hear.) We therefore propose carrying £15,000 to the reserve fund, raising that fund to the total sum of £250,000, or a quarter of a million sterling. (Hear, hear.) And having done that, we shall carry forward a balance of £10,193 for the following half-year. This I cannot doubt but must be satisfactory to the shareholders. It is a policy which, with the increasing business that we are doing year by year, is not only wise and prudent but which appears to me to be necessary in order to protect your property, while it assists in affording your institution capital of a non-paying dividend character. The improved success of the half-year, although we look upon it, as I said befors, as the poorest half of the year, may undoubtedly be attributed in part to the very fine harvest gathered last year, and I am glad to state now that the prospects for the coming season are again very promising, and I hope that they may be, in due course of time, realized. Of course, gentlemen, I need not remind you that a good harvest is the backbone of the success of almost every trading community, and if realized in British Columbia will naturally help to revive some of the industries that have for the last few months been less active. This reaction, if I may so call it, is inevitable in all business circles from time to time, and especially so in young and growing communities, and although it may be disappointing to some, it acts generally as a wise check to too rapid progress, and I cannot think that it is altogether an unmixed evil. The success of the bank is marked by the figures I am able to refer to, by the amount we can place to the reserve fund, and besides this, which I am sure will be gratifying to you, we have been able to increase our investments on this side, and they now stand at no less a figure than £120,000, and I hope we may yet add to our securities in the future, thus affording additional strength to, and confidence in, our bank. I beg now, gentlemen, to move the following resolution, simply adding that I will be happy to respond to any question or to give any explanation asked for. I beg to move, "That a dividend be paid on the paid-up capital of the bank at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, and a bonus of 1 per cent., free of income tax, for the half-year ending the 30th of June last, payable on and after the 16 inst."

Mr. Eden Colvile seconded the motion, which was put and unanimously agreed to.

Dr. Drysdale said that though there might be complaints of bad times in connection with other institutions, it was gratifying to know that they had no such gloomy view as to the position of their bank. He begged to move a cordial vote of thanks to the chairman and directors for their efficient conduct of the business of the company.

Mr. Tuffnell seconded the proposition, which was cordially adopted.

The Chairman—We all appreciate deeply your kindness this day, and I trust that the working of the concern will still continue to meet your confidence and approbation. To deserve that our best efforts will be continued to be given. I thank you, gentlemen, all heartily.

The proceedings then concluded.

NOTES FROM KOOTENAY.

Kaslo Enterprise—An Important Decision—Mr. Mara's Visit.

Written for the TIMES.]

An engineering force of 21 men was landed at the mouth of the Pend O'Reille River the other day, and are surveying a railway line through the valley of the Salmon River toward Nelson. This no doubt means the construction of the Nelson & Fort Sheppard railway next summer.

R. W. Yuill and one or two men are left in charge of the Hall mining property. They fill in the time by cutting timber and peeling it in readiness for the work of timbering the mine, which will begin this fall.

The decision of the court in the case of Cchaugh & Durkin vs. the Kootenay Bonanza Co., establishes the point that each of the miner owners in the property can sell their interests, and it is surmised that should the present negotiations fail the property will pass into other hands by individual sale.

A townsite known as Fredericton has been platted on ground adjoining the Hall property. It is highly probable that a prosperous town may spring up upon this site, populous at least during the summer season; in winter somewhat liable to be found in the condition of the village where Munchausen tied his horse to the weather vane on the church steeple.

The Kaslo people have taken up in earnest the subject of a wagon road to the mines. They are making an effort to raise the necessary funds, some $30,000, by private contribution. Of this some $23,000 is in sight. It remains to be seen whether any Hercules who sits in the clouds will come to the assistance of a plucky people who are tackling an almost incredible load.

The assurance of a wagon road would, it is thought, ensure an output of ore from some half a dozen of the mines on the hill that would employ 100 teams all winter in its transportation to Kaslo. Any such quantity of ore of the grade that is common in the Kaslo mines would create a vast volume of business throughout the district.

The annual meeting of the K. L. Telephone Company was slimly attended and was adjourned to October 20th. The company is out of debt and earning a good surplus above working expenses. Forty phones are now in use. A proposition on behalf of the town of Kaslo was laid before the meeting and it is probable that the line will be extended to that point within 60 days.

The engine and boilers for the steam tug Kaslo (Buchanan & Yuill) which has been long delayed on account of the failure of the John Doty Company, has at last arrived, and this boat, which is calculated to be highly useful to people who have logs, barges, etc., to tow, will soon be running.

The steamer City of Ainsworth is still tied up awaiting inspection and judgment for some inadvertant breach of steamboat regulations. Those who offend against the National Policy by purchasing machinery in Chicago must expect to suffer.

Mr. Mara has been in the district dispensing smiles and compliments and graciousness. There are two or three things that the hon. gentleman did not have with him, perhaps through no fault of his, viz.: A Dominion charter for the Nelson & Fort Sheppard Railway; an announcement of a treaty of reciprocity with the United States, giving us free entry for lead ores; an extension of time for the entry of mining machinery into Canada.

A GRATEFUL MOTHER!

Her Child is Saved by Lactated Food!

A child's life saved! A mother's heart filled with joy and thankfulness! She is anxious that other mothers should know something about the agent that saved her child from the dark grave. She is aware of the fact that thousands of little babies in Canada are hovering between life and death, and that they urgently require the same life-giving food that brought new life and vitality to her own little one.

Mrs. Thos. Caven, of Whittington, Ont., writes:—

"I think it is my duty to let you know that your Lactated Food was the means of saving my baby's life. When he was a few weeks old he got very sick; we did all we could for him, but he cried night and day. I took him to our doctor, who said that baby was suffering from bowel consumption, and he thought it could not live, and he advised me strongly to try Lactated Food. "All my friends who had seen the child at that time, said it could not live. I procured a package of your food, and took it home with me, and commenced to feed it to my baby, and very soon I could see a decided change in him for the better. He was four years old last June, and is now a bright, smart and strong boy, and the picture of health. I would strongly recommend Lactated Food to all mothers for their babies."

Why allow your little ones to waste and pine away, after reading this strong testimony of Mrs. Cavin? Why continue with the common and poorly prepared foods which are now so numerous?

Your child's life is too precious to allow any trifling or procrastination. Go to your druggist at once, and ask him for Lactated Food, that can sustain, fortify and build up the weakest infant.

Progressive Commerce.

Spot cash is the order of the day. We want money to carry on our large and increasing business. To get this money we have reduced prices for the vast stock we hold to an alarming extent. The immense reductions made would form a good capital for a small firm. Thirty to fifty per cent. discount on $150,000 worth of stock is one of the boldest things attempted yet in the province. Yet we are doing it for these reasons: We are buying enormously, paying promptly for our goods, wish to increase our connection and build up the biggest trade in B. C. Our sale commenced on Monday, and is forging ahead. Ladies, you want a bedroom, parlor, or drawing room suite, or one of our lovely sideboards, or a comfortable, artistic chair, or a bright and pretty carpet, or many things in crockery, glassware, lamps and cutlery. Sehl-Hastie-Erskine, 66 and 68 Government street, will sell them to you at far less than auction prices.

HUDSON BAY COMPANY.

Its Affairs Talked Over at the Annual Meeting of Shareholders.

At the recent meeting of the Hudson Bay Co. in London, Sir Donald Smith, the Governor, in his address, spoke of the regret with which the committee found themselves unable to propose a dividend of more than 6s. 6d. per share, or 2½ per cent of the par value of the stock. He continued: "Turning to the profit and loss account, you will see that for the present year we have a net balance of £26,402 13s. 7d.—that is for the year we are now dealing with, as compared with £16,496 13. 2d. last year, an improvement of some £10,000; and this in face of a decline of prices at the fur sales, beaver having gone down 20 per cent., musquash 45, otter 15, fisher, cross fox and bear each 10 per cent., silver fox 15 per cent., and white fox 25 per cent.—the only improvement being, as was expected, in martin and mink, the first 12 and the other 15 per cent. But for this unfortunate decline in prices we would have had some £30,000 more to give you at present, or equal to something like an additional 6s. per share." Following out the policy of the Board intimated at former meetings, they had closed or given instructions for closing some of the posts which, owing to the greatly altered circumstances of the fur trade, are now not sufficiently remunerative to be kept up. On the other hand they have thought it advisable to open three additional sale shops — one at Fort William, the second at Lethbridge, in Alberta, and the third at Nelson, British Columbia.

In regard to the land department Sir Donald said: "The net balance as shown for the present year is £19,910 14s. 11d., against £16,862 19s. 4d. last last year. There has in this department been a further reduction of £886 in the cost of management, the actual figures being £4486 0s. 2d. last year and now £3599 4s. 4d. The sales for the 12 months up to the 31st of March last amounted to—that is, town lots and farm lots together—$159,526, and the total sales—that is since we began selling the lands—the total sales to that date are—farm lands, $1,564,664, and town lots, $2,256,759, or together, $3,821.423, or £782,632 sterling. There are now arrears of instalments amounting to $178,857, equal to £36,589. It may interest you to know the prices received for land. In 1890 the price was $5.75 per acre; in 1891, $5.87; in 1892 it rose to $5.94. and we are also glad to know that there is a sensible increase in the value of town lots in Winnipeg. And, I may add, with regard to Winnipeg, that, as most of you know, there was a very great depression consequent on the boom, as it was called—the great speculation of some ten or twelve years ago. Happily it is recovering, and recovering well, from that, and at present there is much stability in the business and much promise for the future of the town. I may say that in Winnipeg you have still 480 lots unsold. You will be glad to hear that since the closing of the accounts before you in respect of sales on the 31st of March last, we are advised of sales for the three months, April, May and June, for $87,300, as compared with $48,400 at the same period last year. This I think gives good promise for the present year and for the future." Sir Donald explained the smaller sales of the company as compared with those of the C. P. R. by pointing out that a higher price was charged, the railway company being chiefly concerned in bringing in settlers. In a few years the railway lands would be nearly all sold and then the Hudson Bay lands would sell more readily and at advanced prices. The entire quantity of land surveyed and coming to the company at the present moment is 3,861,000 acres. Of this, however, some 264,624 acres have been sold. This leaves now 3,590,000 acres. Of course this is irrespective of all surveys that may be made in the future of that country, in which the company is entitled to participate to the extent of 5 per cent., or one-twentieth. An innovation was proposed in the way of filling vacancies in the directorate now instead of holding a special meeting for that purpose in autumn. Sir Donald concluded by holding out a hope of improvement in busines and moving the adoption of the repor..

The Earl of Lichfield, deputy-governor, seconded the motion.

Mr. Henry Clarke regarded the results of the trading department as eminently unsatisfactory. The capital employed was £1,300,000 and the profit on the shop keeping and the fur trade for the year was £26,000. For the last three years the profit was £67,000, or an average of 1.92 per cent., which showed that the business was carried on at little better than a loss. He thought there must be a considerable leakage somewhere to account for the small size of the profit.

Mr. Joseph Wrigley pointed out that during the last seven years the shareholders had received as the product of the profits of the company about £284,000, and from the land £80,000. The capital invested in the trade had paid an average of over 4¾ per cent. Now he did not say at all that that was a satisfactory result and one that they would like to see perpetuated, but considering the great changes and the very great difficulties, and the low prices of furs, it was not so very dreadful after all—especially with the prospect of more satisfactory results in the future.

A Shareholder:—I think the fur trade is a decreasing trade; the importation is becoming less and less every year.

Major Bigge said that, according to his view of the reports for the past few years, there had been no profit made by trading at all, and that the only dividend they had received resulted from the sale of land. The real question they had to deal with was the fact that they had to contend with a number of private firms in Canada who carried on their fur business at a lower rate of working expenses than this company paid. (Hear, hear.) They all bought their furs at the same price in Canada, and they sold their furs at the same price, and whereas the private firms made a profit, all the gross profit of the company seemed to be absorbed in keeping up their establishment. In that, according to his view, lay the difficulty. Of course, it was a great thing to save £10,000 in the working expenses, but in order to pay a reasonable dividend they would have to save a great deal more than that. He was in Canada for a long time last year, and he found that everyone out there thought that this company was conducted in a very extravagant manner. He had never found any difference of opinion on the subject. It was the opinion of many people out in Canada that the Hudson's Bay Company was more of a philanthropic than a trading concern.

The chairman said that the board was always glad to hear the remarks and criticisms of the shareholders. With regard to the statement that they had been looked upon as a philanthropic rather than a trading corporation, it must be remembered that when they had a monopoly and when they were the governing body of the country, they had to look after those who were not able to look after or work for themselves, and it was not an easy matter all at once, even in these altered circumstances, to extricate themselves from such a position. Year by year, however, they had been aiming at reaching a situation in which their relations with the people should be purely and solely of a business character.

The resolution for the adoption of the report was put and unanimously agreed to.

Upon the motion of the chairman, seconded by Mr. T. R. Grant, the Earl of Lichfield as deputy-governor and Mr. Alderman Walter Vaughan Morgan as a member of the committee were re-elected.

The Late Smallpox Scare did Some Good Things While it Remained.

From the remarks of many medical men spoken to within the last few days, it seems generally admitted among the medical profession in the city that the smallpox has been thoroughly eradicated, with no immediate prospect of its revival anywhere within the city limits. One physician spoken to said:

"The late 'scare' has done good in many ways to counterbalance the evil. For instance, it has been a lesson in sanitation and general cleanliness to thousands who never before troubled themselves about such matters. You will find now that backyards which used to be perfect plague spots are kept in something like decent order, and that some disinfecting material is spread around to check the foulness that may remain. You will find that in many households there has been a general clean-up from the front door to the kitchen, and that where mustiness formerly reigned there is now pure air. And even as to personal cleanliness the 'scare' has worked wonders. It is an unpleasant thing to say, although it is the truth, that many a person dressed in the height of fashion would not bear inspection nearer the skin. In the course of my practice I have detected the fusty odors about some very fashionable people, which comes of a slight enmity to the bath and a diffidence about cold water and soap. People who have habits of that description are hard to keep well. They are always ailing; always uncomfortable, and as a general rule pretty coarse with all their finery. They miss two-thirds of the joy of living, and the indescribably pleasant feeling that an amplitude of cold water in the morning, applied all over, and followed by the vigorously handled rough towel, bring to one for the rest of the day. I don't think a person who has habits of that kind can take smallpox easily. He is, as it were, armed at all points against the foe, and at all events has a much better chance of "pulling through" should he take the disease, than the person who looks with disfavor upon the morning bath and every other bath, except perhaps once a week—imagine a man going a whole week without a bath!"—and the doctor made a motion as if to blow away some disagreeable odor. "Plenty of cold water; gentle, sensible exercise and good plain food are better than all the cures prescribed in that big volume," pointing to a ponderous tome inscribed "British Pharmacopeia."

"If people would only believe that, most of us would have to shut up shop, I'm afraid," continued the doctor, laughing as he wrote out a prescription containing half a dozen loathsome drugs. "This is for a man who doesn't believe in daily bathing, and who takes no exercise. His convictions are deep-rooted, so there is an end of good advice for him at least."
